

Looks that thrill

Some design projects stand out—for their innovation, for their energy, for their ability to answer confounding problems with sublime solutions. A survey of some recent winners of awards bestowed by ARIDO (Association of Registered Interior Designers of Ontario) and IDIBC (Interior Designers Institute of British Columbia) shows what it takes to come out on top.

Dramatic

With their children away at university, a Toronto couple transformed their downtown condo from comfortable family home to this compelling cosmopolitan residence. A reorganized layout, dramatic use of colour and finely detailed finishes and millwork created an exciting living space that won an ARIDO Award of Merit for IN8 Design in Toronto.
