Two For Two Ain't Bad At All!

Yes, that means that last night, for the second year in a row, and in only our second year in business, the professional association for Ontario's interior design industry honoured us with an AWARD OF MERIT.

Our 2011 Award was for a commercial project, the Tim Burton Exhibition at the TIFF BellLightbox in Toronto. This year, one of our residential projects attracted the judges' praise.

The massive Yorkville penthouse renovation required a complete scope of services, from initial concept through project management to the very last accessory placement. The apartment was completely gutted, with plumbing and other services rerouted, awkwardly angled spaces squared, and simple, functional architectural details added. We selected new interior finishes and furnishings that successfully balanced the husband's contemporary tastes with the wife's love of traditional style.

Our wonderful clients, a Florida couple, entrusted us with designing and executing the entire project in their absence, communicating by phone and email only. Truly, this ARIDO Award belongs to them also.
