

DOUBLY DELIGHTED!

Last night, we received two Awards from the Association of Registered Interior Designers.

We were doubly delighted to be so recognized by our professional association, especially because the judges recognized our skills in both the commercial and residential arenas.

The first award, Award of Excellence, was for our design of the new lakeside headquarters for Entro, an internationally renowned environmental graphics and branding company whose previous offices we'd also designed.

Entro prides itself on strategically bold, creatively powerful, and uniquely practical solutions – and so do we, which explains our longterm relationship. We're also delighted that Entro has featured a photo of the new office on their website. To see the project story on our website, click here.

And speaking of great relationships, we share our second Award of Excellence with our terrific clients, a mining industry executive and a philanthropist / fashion industry mentor, whose Yorkville penthouse we completely renovated. Its exciting colour; whimsical, intriguing furnishings and, above all, remarkable functionality, were recently featured in Azure magazine, June 2013 issue, but you can also view the story here.
